

Unit 18

Present perfect (I have done / I have been doing)

with how long, for and since

a Study this example situation:

Bob and Alice are married. They got married exactly 20 years ago. So today is their 20th wedding anniversary.

They have been married for 20 years.

We use the present perfect to say how long something has existed or how long something has been happening.

They are married. || How long have they been married?

b We use the present perfect continuous (I have been doing) to say how long something has been happening. Note that the action is still happening now:

- I've been learning English for a long time.
- Sorry I'm late. Have you been waiting long?
- It's been raining since I got up this morning.

Sometimes the action is a repeated action (see also Unit 16b):

- Tom has been driving for ten years.
- How long have you been smoking?

The continuous (I have been doing) or the simple (I have done) can be used for actions repeated over a long period:

- I've been collecting / I've collected stamps since I was a child.

c We use the simple (I have done) for situations that exist for a long time (especially if we say always). Note that the situation still exists now:

- My father has always worked hard. (not 'has always been working')

We use the continuous for situations over a shorter time. Compare:

- John has been living in London since January.
- John has always lived in London.

d Some verbs (for example be, have, know) are not normally used in the continuous (see Unit 3b for a list and Unit 24 for have):

- How long have Bob and Alice been married?
- Tom has had a cold for the past week. (not 'has been having')
- Tom and I have known each other since we were at school.

e Do not use the present simple (I do) or continuous (I am doing) to say how long something has been happening:

- I've been waiting here for an hour. (not 'I am waiting')
- How long have you known Tom? (not 'do you know')

actions repeated over a long period:
